I. INTRODUCTION

Regional regulation as a form of legislation law which is relatively new, is a further explanation of higher legislation law by considering social and cultural condition of local people. Because they are relatively new in the practice of Regional Government organization, they often ignore the regional regulation. The implementation of regional regulations are arranged in Laws no. 6 year 2014 about regional and government regulations no. 43 year 2014 about regulation of laws implementation no. 16 year 2014 about regional as well as government regulations no. 47 year 2015 about changes toward government regulations no. 43 year 2014 about village. Even though the regional regulations are not popular and many from the government and local people who ignore the regional regulations (PERDES), but the basic principles as the base of management thinking about regional are still valid, they are¹ diversity, participation, authentic autonomy, democracy, and community empowerment.

Through decentralization and de-concentration principles as the very important parts in the system of democratic countries² and regional regulations, they have roles to fulfill and manage heterogeneity condition within a country, and village regulations have a role as the explanation and cluster for regional regulations which make the rules of heterogeneity becomes more creative. The reformation of regional government is intended to renew and strengthen the elements of democracy in the form and arrangement of regional government³. Regional government also becomes the spearhead in regional government system that will connect and interact directly to society.

As the embodiment of democracy, Regional Deliberation Body is formed in the regional, which is appropriate to the developing culture in respective regions, and it is functioned as legislation and supervision institution in terms of implementing Regional Regulation, Income Budgeting, and Regional Expenditure as well as the decision from Head of Regional, also to keep and distribute people’s aspiration. One implementation of these regional regulations is the establishment of Maujana Nagori in Simalungun Regency.

In line with the development of regional autonomy, the government of Simalungun Regency consider that it is needed to issue Regional Regulations of Simalungun Regency no. 13 year 2006 about Nagori Government which stated that Regional Deliberation Body (Badan Permusyawaratan Desa/BPD) is changed to Maujana Nagori as the element of organizer for Nagori Government that has the function to establish Nagori Regulations with Pangulu, to keep and distribute the aspirations of society. Maujana Nagori should sit together with Pangulu to discuss, to confer, and to state plans and decisions of Nagori which all will lead the raise of society’s welfare. Regional Deliberation Body or commonly named as Maujana Nagori in Simalungun area has many functions, namely legislation function, budgeting function, and supervision function. Therefore, members of Maujana Nagori are expected to cooperate well with the Pangulu and should be able to collect all potentials existing in Nagori. The function of BPD or commonly named as Maujana Nagori in Simalungun area, has the authority to formulate and establish policies as well as regulations of Nagori, and still guided to existing regulations and should not contradict with higher level regulations.

In line with the development of regional autonomy or village autonomy in Nagori, the part of Maujana Nagori members cannot be felt yet significantly when doing its legislation function. Thus, the role of society is still lacking in the process of implementing the government at Nagori level.

Supervision done by Maujana Nagori is guided by the policy agreed collectively, which is a work program, Revenue and Expenditure Budget of Nagori, as well as various Legislations by Nagori Government.

Supervision done by Maujana Nagori in Nagori Rabuhit toward the performance of Pangulu can be either preventive supervision or repressive supervision. However, internal supervision can also be done by Maujana Nagori because Maujana Nagori is also a part of organizer for Nagori Administration, together with the Pangulu.
