

‘Osama Bin Laden’: The Darkest Lord Ever

M. R. Pinheiro

Abstract:

The existence of a peaceful Saudi Arabian male has been recorded in history as the most terrifying ever, with his name figuring as top leader of the most harmful satanic group ever created, Al Qaeda, a group that astonishes the world with its intelligence, violence levels and organization for at least 137 years, yet this male never even dreamed, in his worst nightmare, that such a group existed. This paper aims at proving that.

Keywords: Osama bin Laden, Al Qaeda, terror, crime, devil

I. Introduction

Osama bin Laden was born in Saudi Arabia in 1957 [1]. In 1957, Saudi Arabia was an Islamic Country and all those born in it were obliged to become muslims [2]. In this way, he was a muslim himself.

The Osama bin Laden America got to know [2] is however at most a satanic person but never a muslim since a muslim cannot kill muslim males unless those go to trial and are proven guilty, so unless the cause is considered just by those who decide on those things on behalf of the state [3].

That is one of the reasons as to why we can easily prove that one of the most famous faces of terror we see in the media, so the ‘one’ who is plenty of men, which is that of ‘Osama bin Laden’, two, if not three, of the men appearing associated with this name being shown on [1], is not an Islamic face but there is no source available online today, so on the 29/01/2025, that tells us that Osama ever changed religion, so that the sources can only be satanized, yet, since God writes straight through tortuous lines [4], the original Osama would have died via homicide and as a muslim.

In this paper, we aim at providing a proof that the original Osama bin Laden was never not even remotely associated with terrorism and therefore that it is a sin of no dimension saying that he is a top terrorist, actually the one on the top of all other groups, and we also attempt to show that Al Qaeda, the group led by ‘Osama’, has killed muslim males that never had the accusations held against them judged by a court, here including the Islamic ones.

Besides, if the identity of Osama bin Laden is now over with his death being officially recorded in Saudi Arabia, Al Qaeda keeps on going with the Brazilian ‘Osama’ heading it as well as he did before the death of the man figuring as Osama in the media when ‘Obama’, who is another Al Qaeda replacement, this time boss of Hezzbolah (therefore who also exists in multiples and all else), pretended to have killed his best mate (I know because I was with them when they met in the Amazon, Brazil, before the usurpation of the original Obama). I just cannot tell what name the Brazilian ‘Osama’ would be using now. I can only guess it would be ‘Candido Vieira’, the same one he had in Rio when working at UFF. With this, this paper is also to prove that the man killed on TV was another man, not the top boss of Al Qaeda, who is ‘my’ ‘uncle’. The proof of ‘Obama’ existing in multiples and having usurped is in another paper, the one called Multiples: A New Type of Crime for Criminology, which is yet to appear.

Development

Al Qaeda seems to have several branches and we were able to identify at least one in Saudi Arabia, one in Brazil and one in India.

[5] brings an interview with ‘Osama’ in which ‘he’ says he will kill Americans who enter Saudi Arabia. We assume he is in Saudi Arabia, so that would be the narrative/rhetoric used by Al Qaeda to recruit people in that area: we are protecting the Islamic holy places from the non-Islamic peoples. Notice that his image is the one you see below and that is different from all other images we present in this paper for ‘Osama’, therefore this is one more man sharing the stolen ID of Osama bin Laden. Leinha consulted me about this interview, I now remember: she asked me questions about what sort of person should be giving the interview, so that she was deciding on that in the name of the group. I advised her to choose someone who could speak very well, simple and explain things in a very logical and clear way, so someone like a teacher, so that, if research is well done, you are probably going to find out this man is a teacher by formation/service. Basically, that means they put anyone they want to appear in the media and that is rarely going to be the true face of Al Qaeda or one of their leaders. The top leader of Al Qaeda in the world is my ‘uncle’, the Brazilian version of ‘Osama’ and he appeared once on Brazilian TV: that was my idea. He is extremely short, very dark and extremely in shape/slim. He figures as 'Candido Vieira' there, an ID they stole in Sydney by 1972 from a Brazilian Biology researcher who was working at the Sydney University along with his wife, Nilza Braganca Pinheiro (Al Qaeda then occupies their position at the university UFF in Rio de Janeiro since soon after that, maximum time being 1973, I reckon), so that they also killed both of them and 'Nilza' is now my 'aunt', so the Al Qaeda replacement. None of the faces in the YouTubes I here present, or that I have seen outside of Brazil as Al Qaeda faces, is that of my 'uncle'. We now concluded that the top leaders of terrorism are all eternal, exist in multiples (several men sharing a stolen ID at the same time) and depend on Al Qaeda, like Al Qaeda provides a system of alibis through usurpation of IDs, the multiples, and the top leader usually doesn't even show his face in the media, if that is an ID that goes to the media, so that he only makes use of that ID if he is in trouble, so when he is caught by compliance.

The Brazilian branch of Al Qaeda has more than one rhetoric/narrative. The Vacas, for instance, supposed to be 'my group', like Leinha takes me to be her true sister, so that she reserved something for my future based on the things I 'chose' when conversing with her while I was little, and, if I accepted becoming a marginal myself by the time of Australia (after they gave my memories back, which only happened by 2020), this group would be for me to administer, believe Al Qaeda makes them be more and more acceptable in the eyes of the peoples of the world. They are a group of promiscuous women. The mulattos believe they are also blacks, thanks to Al Qaeda changing the legal definition of black skin in Brazil, so that they accept the rhetoric involving the 144,000 black men in space replacing the Elohim, in my best belief. 'Nelson' talks about space and surviving in it plus having a society of only men, all black, with a few changed into transgender. It was me who added the interpretation of the book that is nowadays called Christian bible, so from Revelations. I also theorize there is a group that I would call Mercenaries, which would depend on a computer database where people order 'terror gigs', with me imagining people would pay in advance for those either in full or in part. 'Braganca'/the devil tells me, at a certain stage, that he was getting from 1,000 to 2,000 per head he killed, if I understood well. He was a top leader for Al Qaeda, probably second after the Brazilian 'Osama', and he still did that sort of thing for money back then, which is at most 1980. There might be others.

The Indian branch of Al Qaeda seems to have only one rhetoric/narrative, which is usurping to live 5 lives in one, perhaps making a reference to reincarnation: can incarnate 5 times in the same life. They seem to have a belief in people being stuck with a certain social level and level of achievement in each incarnation, so that they would probably be the most rational usurpers.

It seems that the Brazilian 'Osama', whose true name is unknown to me, 'Braganca'/the devil, Leinha and the black 'Nelson' were all born in India. 'Osama' seems to have been born from a mother who became a slave in Saudi Arabia and he couldn't find a job and started to commit crime there, so that he got arrested and yet another group, who I think is the one coming from Africa, end-of-slavery time in Brazil, proposed usurpation to him, so that he could get out of jail and start a new life in Saudi Arabia, which is where he was, that being the reason as to why he got a Saudi Arabian name.

Upon usurping for the first time, he got bugged in the head by this group and their head device would have come from Germany, a certain university that was doing research into rabbis in dogs then in ex-slaves, black Africans. The funds for the research were interrupted and the black African was then left bugged and not healed, which is what would have made him or his fellows attack the researcher and usurp, posteriorly getting hold of the device, which became a main crime enabler for Al Qaeda. That would have happened by the end of slavery in Brazil, so by 1888 [6]. Considering the information from Co-pilot attained today, so on 29/01/2025, slavery in Germany would have started to finish in 1848 and [7] also seems to support that, so somewhere around there.

A few years ago, in the last 19 years, I actually got to find evidence on that research online: Back then, Al Qaeda had not yet suppressed that source, which now is not available anymore. What I found was about dogs and rabbis studies happening at some university in Germany back then.

I am having difficulties with connecting this group, which 'Braganca' connected to theirs, therefore to Al Qaeda, to Saudi Arabia, like, even though I was able to imagine ex-slaves who spoke Portuguese leaving Rio de Janeiro via usurpation after escaping jail and ex-slaves who spoke Portuguese leaving Germany with the device and going back to Mozambique to then, by accident, come across the group who usurped the existences of righteous ex-slaves who were black Africans and were returning home via ship (first load) with the IDs they acquired in the public library close to the port in Rio, to then form the mother of all terror, the devil's seed, I cannot imagine why they would end up in Saudi Arabia, forming a base there. I now theorize someone (a male) who spoke both Arabic and Portuguese was in the same place the other two groups met and heard all. They then decided to release black people from jail through usurpation via device. How they develop the device to get to the levels of use that were necessary is not something I can guess, though.

For some reason, 'Osama' wants to start a new branch for the group in India, which must be that he was originally from there. That is where his group approaches black 'Nelson' and Leinha, who, back then, was still a male, both teenagers attending high school, because they ended up in a mental hospital.

Here you have a few of the men who have 'played' top boss of Al Qaeda throughout the years (6 very different men: please observe noses, skin color, eyebrows and line of the hair or beard). Each one of them has a name I never heard, like a true name. Some might be dead. It seems that they all exist for that purpose: of dying for the top one, 'their god', the Brazilian 'Osama'.

This same source, so [8], brings several other versions of 'Osama': Please compare via computer at least those from 0:23, 0:38, 0:46, 0:47, 0:53, 0:57, 1:17, 1:42, 1:43, 2:11, 2:16, 2:20, 2:58, 3:18, 3:36, 3:39, 3:45, 3:54, 4:03 and 4:09.

For some reason, I believe the first picture above, the biggest one, belongs to the original Osama bin Laden, like I think he has something like a holy sort of face. I still believe they chose the best member of the Islamic society to usurp.

The man the American government killed on TV had yet another face, which I saw back then as being super white and long. Yet the face they killed, according to [9], is:

You can then see that this man's nose is completely different from all the noses of all the men appearing in [8], so that this is yet another man. 'Osama' cannot be killed because he is plenty and, if he were killed, priceless information would die with him. The reason as to why the current authorities demand his death and the death of the Al Qaeda leaders is because they have priceless information to give also about them, since they keep records of the usurpations. We have a plan to solve all and it suffices that you support us. It is part of our plan to replace jail with bug in the head and brainwashing or brain-editing, with people getting arrested at most for the duration of the first Marcia Hope.

It seems that the 'right 'Obama' and the 'right 'Osama' never appear in the media (the Brazilian 'Osama' did appear once, as said), using the shared ID only if they get in trouble so that they have an alibi.

King Salman bin Al Saud is the current de facto king of Saudi Arabia [10] and he is therefore Islamic. We have selected the pictures with highest contrast among those found in [11]. Here you have them:

Nose, color of skin and shape of the eyes are the most different face features in the pictures above, yet, if you visit [11], you will be able to find tons more. Since Al Qaeda manages all usurpation on earth that happens through a criminal group (rather than the person doing that individually, so just killing another and taking their place) and the Brazilian 'Osama' is its top boss, and the king has to be the person the Islamic most respect and revere, therefore least likely to sin, if usurping Osama's existence wasn't enough, perhaps because that was a kill by the group that bugged the Brazilian 'Osama' instead of his own or his group's, then this would have to finally prove that Al Qaeda is not an Islamic group and 'Osama' is therefore at most satanic, but not Islamic.

II. Conclusions

We have here provided circumstantial proof that Osama bin Laden is not a terrorist, died long time ago and had his ID violently stolen from him (homicide) by the group that made Al Qaeda possible, a group whose name we don't know but that is apparently of African origin.

We also provided our best theory, attained from applying the method of 'inference to the best explanation', from using data that came to us via personal experience with the group Al Qaeda (we have existed, so far, among its members, having those as legal relatives since almost birth), in what regards the origins of Al Qaeda and the story of the Brazilian 'Osama', 'our' 'uncle'.

We have proven that the image associated in the media with Osama bin Laden is that of several other men, who share the ID the group that made the Brazilian 'Osama' be gave him when he first escaped jail in Saudi Arabia. We have also asserted, from observing and being told, that the Brazilian 'Osama', who figures legally as our uncle, is called 'Candido Vieira' in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, where he has connections with the university UFF, having occupied the position of the original Candido since the usurpation of his existence, which should have happened in 1972 or 1973 (flight records of return trip to Rio should tell us exactly when).

We further assert that the Brazilian 'Osama' has several other IDs and can get a new one any time he wants. We have proven here that the man who the American government killed is not the top leader of Al Qaeda: he is just one of the multiples. Killing the Al Qaeda leaders will not solve the problem and will still make us lose the chance of being restored, those who are not happy with the brainwashing/brain-editing received, like us, or the physical injuries accumulated because of the bugs (I have 3 in my head, each one inserted by a different Al Qaeda leader, each one of them likely to have different technology, the members have produced serious damage to my spine, knees, femurs, shoulders, belly and others). Their science is priceless for us, who take so long to develop things since they started usurping, specially things that matter (they enslave our best researchers also from outside of the body for more than 100 years and force them to produce extra-official science). They have spaceships for ages. They can project images in the sky and make them look like they are people and are moving for ages. We need to convert all this science into 'white' science, so get it all published in our official vehicles, and that is only possible if the members are arrested and we get God's Brainwashing going plus the rest of Our Plan. God's Brainwashing is only four premises and will make us get immediate restoration of services and normality, on top of stopping disloyalty, so the possibility that someone presses against us (uses the bugs to harm us).

Al Qaeda states that the entire Australia is usurpers, so that our entire population should be bugged, which is more than 20 million people. It is a unique moment in history: we can fix everyone at the same time, as for basics. Only four instructions and nobody will attack the other anymore, that easy.

Notice that Al Qaeda is so much in control of human kind that, even though the solution to the problem of usurpation (and their extraordinary kingdom time is due to only two main things, usurpation and head bug) is very simple since computer imaging started being something we master (we could simply have established a computer system to compare images of the face of the person everywhere on earth, same system, so that the system would create an alert each time a match were found), not even now are we doing it. If you trust and support us in Our Plan, we will not only have this solution implemented but we will come up with best solutions for all main problems we experience.
