

Basic Elements Of Effective Brainwashing

M. R. Pinheiro

Abstract:

In this study, we examine the content an auditory message must possess to effectively internalize within the recipient's mind, compelling them to act upon it as though it were their own spiritual choice. On the way to that, we make justice to James Vicary, whose actual death has not yet been acknowledged by humanity and whose research has been disgraced by the satanic brotherhood via one of its most powerful weapons, usurpation. We then quickly mention his work and therefore effective brainwashing via images. We also write about the satanic brotherhood and the universals passed to its victims via 666, when we then explain what the 666, sign of the beast, Mechanical Soul, is. We explain the difference between reduced target brainwashing and collective brainwashing and give examples of those, when we then expand on the topic satellites for a while. Between one and another topic, we briefly talk about voice to skull and brainwashing via rhetoric as well.

I. Introduction

We are the Twins of God - I, Elsie Dunnam, and he, Robert Dunnam, kids of Elsie Dunnam and Robert Dunnam, a loving white native American Christian couple from Atlantic City, New Jersey, USA, which got attacked and murdered by the satanic brotherhood [1] somewhere before or in 1973¹ - sent by the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob to restore human kind and this world. We have now experienced the crimes of the satanic brotherhood for almost 60 years each, so for almost 120 us two together, from the side of the victim and at least sometimes from the side of the perpetrator (when members shared details, intelligence and sometimes actual scenes of their atrocities with us or when members consulted us somehow when they were organizing the plot/scenes in order to acquire suggestions and opinions, with us always kept unaware of the fact that it was crime and they were perpetrating it, so most of the time with us being given puzzles to solve, as if the action had already happened, or when members used our brain/thinking to acquire ideas or information/knowledge/insight without our awareness, so through the 666). We know the perpetrators that most matter from very close, since they became our Al Qaeda relatives (a person has Al Qaeda relatives when those are not blood relatives but are regarded and respected as if they were by means of joint usurpation [2]). I became the imposter presenting the name Marcia Ricci Pinheiro to humanity and I even watched this little girl or another usurper lose her life before my very eyes through the hands of the devil (the brotherhood erased that from my memory soon after the incident. The devil then became the imposter calling himself Jayme Braganca Pinheiro, 'my' father, and another top member of Al Qaeda, however temporarily not part of the brotherhood (which only accepts males figuring as males as members), who is a black male changed into a white woman through surgery and 666 (skin colour change), became the imposter calling 'herself' Lea Maria Ricci (Pinheiro), 'my' mother. Another male, this one a black man originally from Rio de Janeiro changed into a white woman via surgery and 666, currently the top leader of Al Qaeda and the satanic sisterhood (the former via bugging the other members with her own 666 when she invented hers and the latter via conversation), became the imposter calling 'herself' Lea Ricci Pinheiro or Leinha (some satanists prefer adopting a nickname in order to detach even more from the usurped), 'my' sister. Yet another male, this one a black man originally from India, called son by the Al Qaeda top leader at the time our family got attacked (the Brazilian 'Osama' [3]), so best helper, became the imposter that calls himself Nelson Ricci Pinheiro, 'my' brother. The top leader of Al Qaeda (so somewhere before or in 1973) and the satanic brotherhood by the time they attack the Halls and the Dunnams for the first time was the Brazilian 'Osama', who is nowadays, still for all the pro-forma, the top leader of those, and he became the imposter who calls himself Candido Vieira, 'my' uncle) and we learned a lot about brainwashing from having contact with them and dedicating ourselves to the art of placid contemplation, since the brotherhood didn't really let us live much or at all so far (such a contemplation is adoration for Our God, since it means getting to immerse ourselves in His thinking, therefore aligning ourselves with His spirit, and He then therefore blesses us a bit more).

The 666, mark of the beast or of the devil, is the Al Qaeda head bug, which is found in at least 2 formats: a nano-circuit that is a radio receiver/transmitter and a nano-circuit that is a satellite mobile receiver/transmitter. While the radio waves one needs a hole on the skull to receive it, the mobile one enters via ear canal in a certain angle. The satanic drill a hole on the top of the skull, middle, highest point via drill (a beautiful drill, of the size of a hand, of golden colour or made of actual gold) in order to insert the radio bug. Both bugs can be operated via satellite or via local tower and the mobile one seems to allow for many more atrocities when they use satellite than when they use local towers (when it seems that only the functions of a normal mobile are present, so transmission/reception of voice and image). That, along with usurpation, is by far the most powerful enabler of the satanic. One of the things it allows for is the insertion of narratives of life, process through which an absolutely compliant individual of solid identity, say Mark Rojas, starts believing he is Mert Ney and stabbed Michaela Dunn three times in her neck until she died, then stabbed Lin Bo in a non-fatal way [4]. It also allows for the radicalization of subjects: a Christian subject, therefore totally compliant, could be inserted ideas of hate and obsession with the life of others, with becoming others, to the point of showing interest in usurpation and defending those who do it to the best of their ability. It also allows for mass brainwashing and therefore manipulation: the brotherhood works a lot with universals and it uses all tools available to them for that purpose, including the 666.

In this paper, we try to use all this wealth of knowledge of facts, insights and details to properly investigate a key-issue in all satanic brotherhood attacks, which is that of the brainwashing via rhetoric and 666. We produce evidence in the direction of proving that James Vicary had sound research results but became a target of the brotherhood at a certain stage of his life and that led to false assertions in the direction of changing his research into a joke of some type. We also talk about a few universals we theorize the brotherhood applies to the bugs of all usurpers. We are actually looking for the best wording of the instructions of Our God's Brainwashing, which is part of saving humanity and this world, so that, every time we can deviate to something related, we do not hesitate in doing so. We briefly talk about voice to skull.

Development

Satanic brotherhood members believe in building a reality in the Collective Unconscious [5] by means of sets of narratives that form rhetoric. In this way, when they use the ID Mert Ney, which they stole from a person they murdered, in one of their attacks [4] and pass narrative of life to the (unknown actual name) man they have abducted and bugged (through head bug), so that he now believes he is Mert Ney and stabbed those 2 women, one in a fatal way, what matters to them is that humanity is being brainwashed with the idea that a white male looking like an undergraduate student of relaxed looks from Australia is capable of displaying psychopathic behaviour all of a sudden, to the point of brutally killing a woman and stabbing another, two strangers. They are also brainwashing us with the idea that a man like that could request the services of a sex worker and still do that with the purposes of killing her. In the Collective Unconscious that far, that wasn't a possibility: the image in it was precisely the opposite, so that a man like that would find girlfriends very easily, would be romantic, since he is intellectualized, and would be compliant in what comes to the laws involving interactions with other people. Now the satanic would not only create all that narrative, so something like a movie for them, but would cement the idea that that is not only possible, but actual, so that the physical type and posture and flare of individuals like that would leave the drawer of least suspect in a heinous crime and go to the drawer of most likely instead.

The unknown man who is brainwashed with the idea that he committed those crimes receives the entire narrative of life via 666 or Mechanical Soul (satan thinks he is guaranteeing the victim will go to hell each time he installs his 666 in someone new and the processes of possession by the devil, manager of hell, through the bug include detaching the human body from its Our God's Given soul and replacing it with the bug, so that the world and human kind starts being seen through the lenses of such a thing as well as ourselves) and there lies the mystery: do they say things normally when they insert that narrative, so say 'you hate sex workers, you organized to meet Michaela, but you then decided to kill her and took a knife with you', etc., or they insert all in the shape of typed text through the bug or they converse with the victim when they are asleep, as 'Brendan Matheson' and 'Trish Morgan' did to me in St Kilda East in 2002², or it is yet somehow else? We know, from observing quite a few cases, that they must have an 'industrial' process in place, like something that is quick and efficient, so that the insertion of text via bug looks more plausible than the rest as a theory, since it all goes via computer, as for our best guesses.

The thing is that, also with 'Brendan' and 'Trish', I believed the ideas were mine and fresh, like that I was just having them and they were 100% mine. However, on that occasion, I had asked 'Trevor Skinner' (who is a satanic brotherhood member, therefore a black man changed into white via 666, who killed one of my relatives in front of me, as for what I think now) to do that in that way, so that it might be that I was welcoming such a brainwashing and, in this case, there are many theories saying the person would end up doing what was suggested to them by another in such a state of mind (sleeping, apparently soon after REM starts): see [7], for example.

In the case involving the unknown man, however, there is obviously no pre-existing desires or personal motivation [7] toward the narrative being entered, so how is it possible to include such set of facts as if they were our life facts in our brain/unconsciousness? Perhaps the satanic found out the language that our brain speaks, like perhaps there is a special language based on special symbols or something and the computer then converts the life narrative into that language before entering it in the victim's brain? Yet, it is also possible that, in cases like 'Mert Ney's', they simply deprive the victim from all their memories (which they have already done to me many times, like they press some button, in my humblest, and that passes instruction to the computer that means blockage of all memories): in this case, authorities will ask questions regarding the crimes and the individual will be left with a blank, but a blank that will be there for any fact of their lives, past and present, so that it is possible that they believe the narrative given by anyone else after they present facts to them, so, in 'Mert's' case, the pictures containing him wearing a top full of blood.

Yet another way of doing things is by inserting images inside of our heads through the 666. "James Vicary astonished the assembled reporters by announcing that he'd repeatedly flashed the slogans "Drink Coca-Cola" and "Eat popcorn" throughout a movie, too fast for conscious perception. As a result, he claimed, sales of popcorn had risen 18.1% - and Coke by 57.7%. This, he declared, was "subliminal advertising".[8]. That was in 1957 [8].

The satanic always rush when they hear about research that is precursor and attack, especially if the research has to do with what they most use, which is brainwashing (in the beginning, when they didn't have the device, they used voice to skull (that is a technique that apparently started with negro cannibals and it is what the name states, imposing voice to the skull of someone, so entering instructions like that), and 'Braganca', 'my' Al Qaeda father, the devil, is still from that time, so that he used this technique to insert things in my brain a few times, with me waking up to notice him finishing some lines of insertion from over my head, sitting on the side of my bed, on occasions). This sort of attack is part of their misinformation campaign, which lots of times consists in killing researchers/inventors and hiding their research results and techniques (so that they become sole possessors of such knowledge/insight/creation) from everyone else through usurpation of their ID and decharacterization of the identity (so, for instance, in the case of Jose Delgado, they kill him, usurp, and from research with people and psychiatry, highest level, MKULTRA, healing of mental illness through head bugs that were already implanted with no exterior signs, he ends up with a biographical record that is research with animals, brutal (to stop their rage and through head implants that are grotesque and remain visible in the animal's head at all times), and outside of the MKULTRA. In the case of a German research from the 1880s, he ends up with nothing on his biography that points at head bugs at all or even rabbis (he had outstanding research in rabbis and was working toward suppressing the shakes through head bugs already back then). Jame's results were outstanding, so much so he called a press conference, so that the satanic did not hesitate: rushed there, killed and replaced him with a usurper [2]. See:

² They inserted a script containing a sequence of actions I would later on perform when in my trip in New Zealand. One of the things I did for following such a script was speeding well above 100Km per hour on a particular straight road where 'Tom Cruise' [5] had driven his car when filming his movie in 2002 and have an accident exactly where he had his (the mark of his tires were exactly where my car stopped), yet I never ever went more than at most a little above 100 and I never had an accident, in 11 years driving, that had been my fault or ever wanted to have one. Another thing was not going to Queenstown, where they have bungy jumping, but I am all for doing exciting things back then and entire life that far and that sounded extremely interesting plus I had planned on doing that when there for the first time, as it was the case. They made me wake up through bug (I have 3 666s in my head now and I had 2 that far) just to witness that both 'Brendan' and 'Trish' were in my room and had a notebook in their hands from which they passed things to me via conversation, like I would say, 'no, I won't do that', and they would say, 'you will do that' soon after that and the result was that I did what they told me to do, so that they were clearly saying things using 'you' to me. .

[9]

Nose and eyebrow represent remarkable differences among the three of them, so that here we see this ID was usurped at least twice by the satanic brotherhood and therefore the original man got killed probably way before 'he' casts lame over 'his' research results, what happens in 1962 [9]:

"In a television interview with Fred Danzig in 1962 for Advertising Age, Vicary admitted that the original study was "a gimmick" and that the amount of data was "too small to be meaningful". He shied away from media attention after the disclosure. His papers are held by the Thomas J. Dodd Research Center at the University of Connecticut in Storrs. Numerous commentaries have appeared on this affair since 1957."

Yet, on another source, we see that the satanic also managed to usurp the manager of the cinema where the experiment happened in order to pass their narrative: "His story took a more serious blow when the manager of the cinema involved told Motion Picture Daily that the experiment had had no impact. In 1962, Vicary finally confessed that he hadn't done enough research to go public and that he regretted the whole thing." [8]

Unfortunately, there is no name or pictures for such a manager, yet I am absolutely sure the satanic usurped his existence and it was their slave/usurper who said that the experiment had no impact.

We notice that this all took place in Fort Lee, New Jersey, so already our state (Co-pilot), already somewhere between 1957 and 1962.

We observe that humanity only got to know about his experiment results because he called a press conference immediately after and the press gave one to him. Otherwise, the satanic would have jumped in much before he could get to the press and would already say it was nothing right or sound, in case anyone else that is not them got to know about it.

Oh, well, then 'inserting images in someone's head via 666' pays is the conclusion. I now spent 16 years having the images of the multiples of 'Obama' [6] inserted in my head and I then always associated him with someone who was going to help me, therefore do the right thing in life, what we need and ask, what is proper to do. Instead, he is the top boss of Hezbollah, usurped under Al Qaeda, and therefore is their slave, and he reached the extreme of telling me in the own 2009, time of start of his first mandate, after the black woman from the New York City Police rushed to see things herself (she then appeared in image inside of my head for me to know she had managed to enter the 666 and I was asking for help with that) and tell her equally black boss (I know because he, on his turn, also appeared in image in my head as soon as she told him), who, on his turn, rushed to tell the president straight away, therefore the satanic brotherhood member, 'Obama', since I was from Australia and only visiting the Country, as for documents, that he (he, on his turn, also appeared in my head in image) would only save me if I were black. We now know he wouldn't save me at all because they only save black men, if they save someone, the guys of the brotherhood. Even so, I spent further 16 years after that believing he was willing to help me and was observing things and making me company for some important reason, like perhaps we had a story or something, only recently giving up on him and starting to find ways of attacking his image each time it shows up in my head. The image of the person or product, when inserted in our head in passive mode (not attacking us via voice or saying bad things to us or anything like that), therefore definitely leads to us seeing that person or product in a favourable manner and, to get rid of the effects of such a brainwashing, it may take us a decade and a half. That is important because, if the person wants to kill us, and they manage to enter our 666, inserting their image in our head, we may be defenceless as they approach our bodies and therefore we may never not even be prepared to ever sketch a reaction, who would say manage to survive the attack.

That is the effects of having a simple image of someone or something inserted in our heads in passive mode. If the person speaks to us when we are asleep, though, that is an active mode of entering us and therefore it would have to be more harmful and permanent, so more impactful.

The satanic then have several strategies they apply to collectively brainwash us. The satellite is a main weapon: the modern ones, such as Intelsat 37e (2017) and Intelsat 33e (2016), can transmit both radio and mobile waves (Co-pilot). That is ideal because the satanic can then transmit to the heads of those who have been implanted either their first head bug/666 (radio, the first bug I have in my head, inserted in me and my twin when we were very little, perhaps soon after birth, used by the satanic brotherhood until at most Leinha gets her first head bug (she got it through a Telecommunications Engineer who had access to a laboratory at a private university where 'Mario Perozzo' (top manager of Embratel for quite a few years) had graduated and he is the Al Qaeda brother of 'Carla Perozzo'³, 'my' Al Qaeda cousin), which 'finally' is a minituarized and highly simplified satellite mobile circuit. The radio ones apparently relied on low height orbit satellites (radio-only satellites can make orbits at even GEO (Geostationary Earth Orbit) heights but most of them are in LEO or Low Earth Orbit (200 to 2,000 Km above earth) due to cost-effectiveness and latency/time data takes to travel from one point to another: they can be built through universities or clubs and cost between US$ 50,000 and US$ 500,000 to make: CubeSat is an example of those (Co-pilot). At a certain stage (before 2000), 'Nelson' told me that they still put a few (or one) satellites of the type CubeSat on air every year but that they are completely useless, so that I understand that is probably to deceive people so that they think their power is in those and therefore attack/destroy at most those. He would have moved all that was done through them to the more powerful satellites, those that do both radio and mobile waves, in my humblest. Yet, I do believe it is possible that at least sometimes they target only the group of people bugged with the first 666 and, in that case, in particular if they target people in a specific latitude (this type of satellite always travels in orbits, so around the world, says Co-pilot), this type of satellite might still be useful, plus I never saw them do anything that is useless: everything is carefully planned most of the time (I believe they insert their plans in a computer system at least 20 years in advance most of the time and people log in and check on those until they reach minimum number of checkers/fixers). Co-pilot says it takes about 90 to 120 minutes for a radio-only satellite to complete an orbit around earth.

Creating the second bug/666 that the satanic inserted in my head has to be easy for a Telecommunications Engineer, since it was me who gave Leinha the intel behind it: once more, she never says she will commit crime with my ideas and she presents things to me as if they were a logical puzzle and I apparently love those. I am the one who advised 'her' to go for 'Mario Perozzo' and find a fellow of his at his university in Telecommunications Engineering. I also gave the idea of a simplified (lots of functions don't need to be present, such as local memory, calendar, text messaging and diary) and miniaturized satellite mobile circuit (it doesn't have the option to disconnect the call, so that it remains on 'closed circuit state' at all times and communication with others happens through a system of crossed lines, which Brazil excels at creating and using, for instance for dating: we call a single number, say 9234-5467, since I believe the one 'Ilda Terezinha Ziglia', 'my' Al Qaeda aunt, showed me in Porto Alegre circa 1990 had that shape, and, as soon as the call is completed, we are in a space where all other callers are and the sound is exactly what we get in my head, so without any possible interference, noise or rupture, clearest, as if there is nothing between one and another who is talking or around those⁴. 'Mario Perozzo' would give the idle numbers from Embratel to the satanic, so that I think I am sure each head has its own idle number, which is then dialled by the violator somehow, so from a computer, device or even telephone set), which is exactly the same idea I gave 'Trevor Skinner' in 2001, which is the idea that made possible that yet another Telecommunications Engineer, 'Shane', who got a prize on Fuzzy Logic, research, when I was his fellow at the Victoria University of Technology in Melbourne, Victoria,

⁴ The satanic make use of several services only they know about, so that they also, in the same way they stop humanity's access to information in general, but specially that connected to their crimes, on top of misleading, restrict information about these numbers and apps ('Patricia Petersen', a satanic transgender who works in the Australian Academia in Philosophy, used an app at the university through which she met young good looking men as well as others for one-offs in 2000-2002) and Radio PX ('Rogerio de Oliveira' and 'Ricardo Ziglia' both had PXs in their cars) to themselves, so that satanic transgenders would be the only ones who can have such information, people like Leinha, as well as men, which is one of the reasons as to why they succeeded in taking over so quickly. Another negro, probably a satanic transgender, emphasized that she loves blackberries (they are very complex to be used and were abandoned by most who tried them in favor of others long time ago, but 'Tereza', from Adelaide, still used it in 2012, so that they bring some substantial advantage to them), probably another crime enabler.

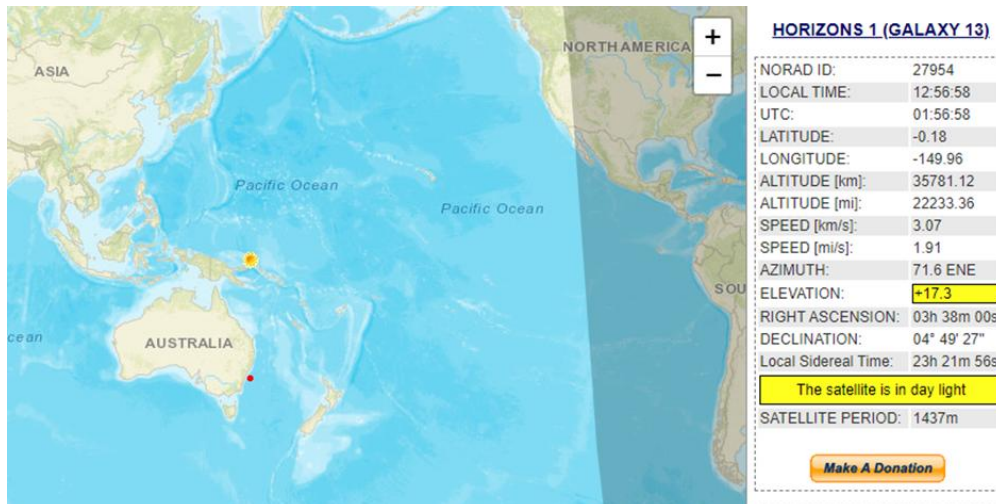

Australia, in 2001, created his own 666, which is the 3rd device I have in my head. I am the one who told 'Trevor' to go for 'Shane', since I thought I knew him.

Their success there relies on the fact that the satanic run the misinformation campaign in all disciplines of human knowledge, but specially Biology, which was where the Brazilian 'Osama' got placed with his Al Qaeda wife, 'Nilza Braganca Pinheiro': they then made sure the official information is that there is no hole in the human ear through which a device could pass and enter the human brain. In fact, they are so cruel in those regards, that we can now see movie images of the eardrum and everyone, upon watching those, will swear that such a hole is my invention, pure fiction. See [10], [11] and [12] (movie). One of the policemen in Australia, at the civil police station, told me like this, after attentively listening to me and accompanying plus accepting all I was reporting to him until that height: there is no hole in the eardrum (and that was then his reason to request that I visited a mental health professional instead of him taking note of that all and investigating my case, so that is one of the ways the satanic found to stop possibilities of us stopping their 'unstoppable force' (they say that is what it is, like evil is an unstoppable force while Our God can be stopped any time or good in society can, which is why they chose evil: they are after maximum power while in human shape, like what Leinha said, she wanted everyone in the world to be like the cariocas, so that she was going to make the entire human kind be replaced [2] with their type/subrace, and it seems that she is now on the last stages of her plan at least in what regards the USA, which would mean it takes them about 40 years to do an entire Country of the population of America, so 346.7 million people (Co-pilot). 'Nelson' wanted to disarm the superpowers and their main allies ('Braganca' claimed that the only humans who could stop him were the super tall ones, since he then could not reach their necks (they break neck while killing), so that one of the things they planned for this side of the world, so America, England, Australia and Brazil, was that the population would all be replaced with short people, cariocas making probably ideal height (Co-pilot, which is also a satanic product, just like all AI that exists, meaning controlled and managed by the brotherhood, the idea of the thing having come from my enslaved brain, as for Chat GPT and Co-pilot, says that the average height of the people of America and Australia hasn't changed since 1930 and it is about 1.73m for men, yet it is just that they then impose their target or final height to us via rhetoric, so this sort of misinformation. It is possible that all databases we can access, all books and all other materials, also say that but you know that is not true: whoever was in those countries for a long amount of time would know the height decreased in a barbarian way, which may be another reason to do the frequent replacement of all the usurpers: so that none realizes what is actually happening to the people and Country where they are. Our compliance officers are now flaccid, fat, without muscles, therefore not in shape, they now curse and have tattoos (therefore are ugly and look dirty, on top of being actually much uglier in face and body (it makes a difference because Our God's people should be all blessed, also in looks, and those who are marginal are demoniac instead but beauty is one of the ways they recognize Our God's people. The satanic would have destroyed all images of the past each time, or access to those, but we can see how they are now and, for the fortunate ones, who got to live their natural lives, as for length, or were the lucky 'usurpers', they will know what I say is true), they now fear the marginal, since it is all satanic thinking, therefore who is more violent/physically threatening is what matters, not the spirit, so if they are being evil or good to society, who is with Our God (being with Our God empowers us, we gain authority, and therefore we don't fear the marginal, since they know who we are, they see Our God in us, also mainly because we understand them and don't want to simply kill them, like we do believe in regeneration and recovery and we also believe nobody is born like that, so that society is also to be blamed, and it is all demoniac possession of some type, so that we only kill them in self-defence or to stop them from harming others if there is no way out).

Simple and brutal ways of proving things can be used here, in what regards the eardrum (and the marginal frequently goes for those himself): any undergraduate medicine student would have access to a laboratory where there are corpses. It then suffices that they isolate the human ear and pass water from one side to another to prove that there is a hole in the eardrum or a way in which it remains like that to the sight yet it opens for things to pass through it. The student could then change the liquid involved to keep on proving things, like the liquid can become thicker or something. Once proven that there is a hole, we need to know how it works. The material used in the manufacture of the 3rd bug I have in my head made me feel a rush of cold in the ear itself, so that I believe it might be 100% metal. In this case, the student could attempt to pass something like an ankle bracelet (see [13], uppermost one) inside of it, which I think is more or less what it is. If they succeed, next perhaps they have to install a micro-camera and accompany the process. Perhaps the angle of 'dropping' or insertion is relevant as well, since 'Agnella Ricci Terra' tilted my head to about 45 degrees with the ground before dropping the bug.

Satellites can target locations for the brainwashing, so that, for instance, when the satanic brotherhood wanted to brainwash only Australia, Intelsat came up with a special satellite called Horizons-1: That was in 2003 [14]. The information is now all satanized because I had published it all in one of my blogs with Blogger, believe Crime [15], and they then saw that I knew, remembered, and that was strategic information for them, crime enabler. Wikipedia doesn't mention that it covers Australia only: it says it covers North America, Puerto Rico, Alaska, Hawaii and Mexico instead [14], so that, as said, they satanize all information for more than 3,000 years and that is the only reason as to why they keep on going for so long. There is a way to check on satellites coverage and track them, which is a website with a program that gets information from them in real time, but I used it before and they noticed it, so that it is now a bit satanized, yet it still shows the dot/satellite above only Australia. See:

[16].

That was part of 'my' story to 'Trevor' (2001): that Australia had to be brainwashed not to help me get rid of the device because we were all doing Forever Young and I would have no idea and would then be begging to be saved all the way through, so that I am sure sure brainwashing the entire Country and getting that result is not only possible; it is a fact. They could then select classes of people to be affected by the brainwashing, so say they would impose a mobile wave and a radio wave containing the message, 'If I am government, press or compliance, I won't move to help or save Marcia Ricci Pinheiro', for as long as I kept that name.

We noticed that people eventually spit the tokens of the brainwashing to us, even because when we are more connected to Our God, Jesus helps through the Holy Ghost, so that cariocas revealed quite a few to me, all the universals we keep on talking about: 'men always betray', 'the thing is taking advantage in all you do', 'for free even injection on the forefront' (at a certain stage, I think I ate corpse in Australia, Sydney, when this group of black men were offering free sausage sizzles in front of a small drug store: the taste and aroma were both very different and so was the way the sausage was burning, like with lots of smoke and all else, when it is usually not like that. Yet they may give us poison and drugs like that too), 'all you can do is crime' (Leinha claims he started on crime like that, that they installed the head bug in him, so I understand it was also without his awareness and consent, and they told him, from within his head, that all he could do was crime, so that they probably told him he will never be able to prove he has a bug inside of himself and, if he tries, he will end up in psychiatry or further injured), 'insurance died old' (for nobody to acquire insurance for anything), 'when misery steps in, love leaves through the window', etc. At a certain stage, I had a wonderful collection of those in the blog Crime from Blogger [15], but the satanic monitor all that I think and do, so that they deleted all those blog posts (I wrote 611 blog posts in Crime, 186 in Religion, 330 in Curiosities and 52 in Music, all those blogs being relevant in terms of crimes of the satanic brotherhood), unfortunately, and these are then just the so few I can remember that would be key.

People like 'Sergio Bastos' (negro man likely to be part of the satanic brotherhood, definitely with access to the Al Qaeda database of mercenaries), who I met while working at Senai/Cetiqt, Riachuelo, Rio de Janeiro, and I was there up to 1999, seem to try to manipulate our thinking, to format it into what they want, like he asked me about my fiancée, if he betrayed me, and I refused to say anything else apart from that he says he doesn't and I must believe him, when he then said, 'man betrays'. He saw I didn't take that to be important, him saying that, and wouldn't change my behaviour or choices based on that (I knew 'Rogerio' betrayed me for long at that stage, but I didn't want to let 'Sergio' feel or think that I could be with someone else (also, that is a way of entering our spirit, putting us spiritually together with them, so with the satanic, a technique they learn, as in sales, like, if you agree with him, then you are together in a way that you will accept him as an influencer (I believe they invented the term 'mate' for Australia to manipulate/handle people better, like that becomes an influencer automatically. Each new token of that type that he passes to you puts you more and more in his hands and the best tokens are always the universals, since it is always brainwashing, like no universal is natural, since no universal is true, unless it is Mathematics, but, provided you accept one, you are likely to accept the other, and, from there, he goes shaping your spirit/mind), so that he then organized things in a way it would be clear, after he got 'Rogerio' to visit SENAI, that 'Rogerio' had betrayed me with a female student from there, like he organized that with him, 'Rogerio' is definitely a member of the brotherhood, so that he was making sure I now believed what he said, like he was obviously targeting commanding me, which is what they most do in life. After that day, he sees me and tells me all men betray, do you already agree, like in other words, and I then said, no, there are plenty of men who don't. He said, give me an example. I then said the doorman. He then set the doorman up with another satanic, 'Anna Fillipecki', and the man did what I expected him to do upon being approached by the temptress they sent to him, who was a friend of 'Anna', he made sure I watched all, and the man, just like what I said, was a true Christian man and remained faithful, despite all. 'Sergio' then paid a mercenary from the database to threaten then kill him in a horrible way, in full shame and pain and suffering, in front of all students. Not happy, upon seeing that I insisted with my Christian things, he sent the same mercenary to me and Our Lord Jesus made that black boy give me a chance by calling to threaten me, like he also had done that to the doorman, perhaps his style of killing, and the boy then came to our side, the side of the good, and helped saving me from 'Sergio' and Senai, like leaving Rio still alive.

Since the satanic brotherhood claims to have already replaced all native people of Australia, this a few years ago, but we think that is an extraordinary number of people when compared to the members that engage in murdering for them and how much we see each member murdering per day, we ended up theorizing that they could do what they did with the height: they advertise their target via all information vehicles as if that were the usual thing (average height), this since at least 1930, but we know the height progressively came down instead from observing people around us when we walk, study, work and so on, so that there is still some hope native exist here and the fact that everyone thinks they are usurpers by choice and behaves as such might be a consequence of satellite brainwashing, so say they pass the instruction, 'your name is not yours, you stole the life of someone else, you sinned, you are a criminal and now you must join terrorist groups. If you doubt that, observe that your supposed relatives don't really look anything like you'. They then achieve that result by consistently doing the scramble (satanic practice involving swapping just-born babies in the nursery) in all hospitals, like by having one satanic nurse in each (1,300 hospitals approximately, says Co-pilot).

I once saw research of the Pentagon that had to do with satellite and attacks over individuals: they said they could now burn the face of anyone on earth (so bugged or not bugged). I also saw research involving the MKULTRA and people fighting: that they could make any two people on earth, so bugged or not, fight between themselves by means of the satellite. I then believe it is possible to alter the mood of an entire population, which I now believe is what they do to Rio, since, despite the place being extremely beautiful, as for nature and weather, and despite all the 'jeitinho carioca', which Leinha so much talks about, and that expression and feel, therefore action, was introduced by the satanic as well, which is the way of always avoiding hard work, always finding a way around things, so a way to break the rules, I find that people are always stressed, looking oppressed and so on. The satanic have now erased any trace of the news I saw circulating so broadly back then, which means they do think that is a key for us to work out part of the harm they do to humanity.

Since I then think that they can definitely make people become aggressive to the point of fighting others, they could have radio-only satellites over places like Angola, Kenya and Rio de Janeiro, perhaps passing in very specific latitudes, so say covering the mountains in Rio or Redfern in Australia or the black suburbs in the USA or wherever we notice people are more aggressive, more irritable/sensitive. In this case, they could bug with radio bugs only very specific individuals, so say those I believe they moved from Africa to the mountains in Rio and from Africa to the black suburbs in the USA by ship, spaceship and whatever else, in order to make those places be their heavens on earth, where they 'finally' find people who are as aggressive/violent/irritable as them, so true psychopaths, since 'Nelson' was classified as such in India during his secondary school time, when the American government was helping them diagnose these things through some highly respected exam (that they again destroyed through usurpers). It is probably what they started calling radicalization of individuals: plain brainwashing! In that case, messages such as, 'I hate everyone', 'I hate myself', 'Freedom is doing whatever I want whenever I want with whomever I want for as long as I want', 'Law exists to be disrespected', 'terrorism is the salvation of humanity', 'money is all' (one of their rhetorics is that they are attacking us all in the first world because money is here), etc.

What we notice, as for Rio, is that sentences without a person or organization or entity in them, also very short and expressing equivalencies, seem to stick better, so 'love is all' and 'seeing is believing' (they falsify movies, as we saw, they produce rhetoric through criminally organized impressions and so on, so that we can see 'Mert Ney' and believe, because we saw blood on him, that he did do that, so that this enables their crimes, helps with one set of objectives, which is brainwashing society in that direction of those people they present in the media being guilty instead of them), for instance.

II. Conclusion

We conclude that several methods lead to effective brainwashing: voice to skull, radio-only satellite, media and even infiltration of subjects in targeted groups, such as teachers. There is individual, group and mass brainwashing.

Satellite brainwashing is the most advanced technique, where individuals can be targeted via individual head bug, which is likely to be a special mobile number that is initially idle with the telecommunications company of the government that manages satellite access/use, groups can be targeted via their individual bugs or by geographical location and masses can be targeted by geographical location.

In terms of message passed, the best ones, so the ones that most stick, are short sentences, of at most three words, where there is no person or organization or entity that is mentioned, so, instead of saying, 'people of black colour are beautiful', saying, 'black is beautiful', instead of saying, 'I will never do wrong', saying 'wrong kills', and so on.

When radicalizing in person, satanic brotherhood or sisterhood members lots of times make use of the 'universals technique', which would be first getting the person who seems to accept having polite social conversations with them to accept a universal they come up with, so say, 'men betray', to then come up with other universals each time they advance in terms of controlling or puppeteering that particular target. That is a technique that some very successful salesmen apply for ages.

Brainwashing is a very powerful thing: A Christian subject, therefore totally compliant, could be inserted ideas of hate and obsession with the life of others, with becoming others, to the point of showing interest in usurpation and defending those who do it to the best of their ability. An innocent male, of Christian behaviour, therefore compliant, could be inserted a narrative of life that would make him believe he is another person, bearer of another person's ID, and has committed serious crimes against others, such as brutal homicide.

People who became top leaders of satanism seem to wish for maximizing power and believe that, while evil is an unstoppable force, good is easily destroyed and therefore weak. They want to shape human kind into what they think is an ideal people for them, so that Leinha wants cariocas to replace all peoples on earth for her to be able to travel and feel at home anywhere, since she is carioca and prefers cariocas, believing they have superior intelligence, and 'Braganca'/the devil wants all peoples to decrease in height to an ideal height, which seems to be around at most 1.75m, just because he fears only those who are much taller than him (he is 1.80m), since he thinks he may then not be able to give those a chin knock (move all top satanic people know, like they have degrees in satanism, it seems that they are 33 in total, exactly Christ's age, and learning that move may take a few degrees, even though I think they get all via bug instead of learning it. They then move quicker than any human can detect with their eyes and push the chin upwards from below in a single move of the arm, with us guessing that the arm straightens up as they do it, like I have watched them killing a few when little, they then erased from my mind each time, but they recently returned my memories, so that I now remember a few times, but their moves are too quick for our human perception) in time, like they may attack him first and win.
